

Maths Leader's Training

with Jenny Cook

Mathematics subject leaders are invited to enrol in a fantastic programme of training days across the next academic year. This will support them in their role of middle leadership and understanding of mathematics across the primary curriculum.

Each day will offer:

- recent news, updates and implications for practice in school;
- subject and pedagogical knowledge development;
- leadership development;
- time to plan for action in school.

Each day will be bespoke to the needs of the participants, schools and current agendas within mathematics ensuring the training is always meeting exact point of needs.
